Editorial Note

Dear Readers, Authors, Reviewers, and Members of the Academic Community,

It gives me great pleasure to present the June 2026 issue of the mLAC Journal for Arts, Commerce and Sciences (m-JACS), a multidisciplinary, peer-reviewed, open-access journal published by Maharani Lakshmi Ammanni College for Women (Autonomous). The journal remains committed to fostering scholarly excellence and providing a platform for the dissemination of high-quality research across diverse academic disciplines.

I am delighted to announce that all manuscripts received as part of the Conference on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) have successfully completed the review and publication process. We sincerely thank the conference organizers, authors, reviewers, and editorial team for their dedicated efforts in bringing together valuable research contributions that address pressing global challenges and support the achievement of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. As the journal continues to grow, we are currently undertaking a comprehensive revamping and strengthening of our Editorial Board and Reviewer Panel. This initiative is part of our ongoing efforts to enhance the journal's academic quality, expand its disciplinary expertise, and align with international best practices in scholarly publishing. We warmly invite experienced academicians, researchers, and professionals who are interested in contributing as Editorial Board Members or Reviewers to join our growing scholarly community. Interested individuals may write to mjacs@mlacw.edu.in with their academic profile and areas of expertise.

This expansion forms an important step in our strategic efforts to prepare the journal for inclusion in reputed indexing and abstracting databases such as Scopus, Web of Science, and other recognized international platforms. Strengthening our editorial and peer-review framework will help ensure the continued publication of rigorous, impactful, and ethically sound research.

The journal remains committed to maintaining a transparent and robust peer-review process. All submitted manuscripts undergo careful evaluation for originality, methodological soundness, academic relevance, ethical compliance, and scholarly contribution. We continue to uphold the highest standards of publication ethics and research integrity.

We also encourage researchers from Arts, Humanities, Social Sciences, Commerce, Management, Education, and Applied Sciences to submit original research, review articles, case studies, and interdisciplinary works that contribute meaningfully to academic discourse and societal development.

I extend my sincere gratitude to our authors, reviewers, editorial board members, readers, and institutional supporters for their continued trust and contribution to the success of m-JACS. Your support enables us to advance our mission of promoting accessible, high-quality scholarly communication.

We look forward to your continued participation and support as we strive to elevate the journal to greater academic visibility and international recognition.

Warm regards,

Dr. Sushil Kumar Middha
